

Fiber Optic Rotation Sensor in Russia

V. N. Logozinski, E. Tropkin
Fizoptika Co. 109387, PO box 16, Moscow, Russia

The development of the commercial fiber optic gyroscopes in Russia is described. The general description of FOG Products in our company is given briefly and also the technical description of a typical FOG product such as features, characteristics, operation, design and reliability etc is introduced. Their applications and prospects of future development are presented finally.