

A Study on the Effect of Sanchung-mok in Liver Disease

Jin-Gyu CHOI

Chairman

Korea Native Herbmedicine

Research Society

Sanchung-mok is a tall defoliate broad leaved tree grows in middle & north regions of our country. The leaves, twig and bark of this tree has apparent treatment action for fatty liver, hepatitis, hepatocirrhosis, liver cancer and etc. I, the writer of this article hereby present the result as we have acquired good result by dosing the sanchung-mok to many sorts of liver disease patients since 1998.