Characterization of Natvig Type Continuum Structure Functions

Seung Min Lee

Department of Statistics, Hallym University, Chunchon 200-702, Korea

Abstract

A continuum structure function is a non-decreasing mapping from the unit hypercube to the unit interval. Within the class of continuum structure functions, new axiomatic characterizations of the Natvig and the Barlow-Wu subclass are obtained.

Keywords: Reliability; Continuum structure function

E-mail address: smlee1@hallym.ac.kr (S.M. Lee).