Dear Editor,

The authors would like to inform you of an error in our recently published article, “McCune-Albright syndrome with acromegaly: A case report with characteristic radiographic features of fibrous dysplasia” 2022 Mar; 52: 421-7. <https://doi.org/10.5624/isd.20220825>. The authors have discovered that Figure 5 of our paper published in Imaging Science in Dentistry exposes personal information in the version of the article posted on the homepage. Please take corrective action to prevent this personal information from being exposed. The patient’s personal information in Figure 5 is not exposed in the PDF version of the article available on the ISD homepage, but the patient's information is exposed in the version of the article published on the website itself. We request that the information on the patient’s name, age, and treatment hospital be deleted. The authors apologize for this oversight and any confusion it may have caused to the readers. This error does not affect the overall conclusions and implications of the study. The authors are grateful for the opportunity to correct this mistake and appreciate your assistance in maintaining the accuracy of the work.
